the strategy bridge presents and explains the general theory of strategy and demonstrates the relevance of that theory to the real world of practice the author explains what strategy is and how it relates to politics and warfare the book is not about the theory of strategy rather it is that theory mother teresa s general letters to her sisters is a collection of mother teresa s circular letters to the members of her religious congregation the missionaries of charity sisters not intended for those outside her community they were written informally and spontaneously often with little editing it was for mother teresa a way of being present to the members of her rapidly expanding religious order seemingly of little interest except for those to whom they were addressed the letters reveal the spiritual depth and pragmatic leadership of one of the most popular modern saints as well as the inner dynamics underlying one of the most flourishing religious congregations of the last century at the same time and perhaps surprisingly these letters may also prove to be worthwhile reading for a wider audience something of god s wisdom and love seems to shine through mother teresa s guidance and counsels giving the reader light and help even though he or she is not living the same religious life as one of the sisters mother teresa s unpolished statements are at times humble and at times humbling they inspire confidence and encourage generosity many a time they are humorous but more often challenging they are sprinkled with serene joy but also permeated with deep pain she delighted in her sisters accomplishments yet did not shy away from correcting even the smallest flaw which didn t escape her very observant eye sometimes she sounded just like a mother full of tender loving care and at other times more like a commander in chief exhibiting an iron will and uncompromising determination in either case her followers seemed to have been drawn into the mystery of her charism endeavoring to keep pace with her was it the attraction of what could be termed as her leadership style in the unrelenting service of the poorest of the poor or the perceived love of a mother s heart that made her so unanimously loved and admired by the members of her congregation or was it both the letters will reveal the answer inspiring in their simplicity the letters may well serve as a treasure trove where anyone from a reflective scholar to a caring mother of a family may find satisfaction for their spiritual palate the attractiveness of perennial truth often makes mother teresa s presentation of traditional spiritual themes likewise relevant for contemporary needs in the context of mother teresa s statement that we are created for greater things to love and to be loved these letters will help the reader discover and experience god s presence through the little miracles of his love in one s daily life they will inspire us to put our love into living action sharing his love with all those we meet and so make our lives something beautiful for god this book uses practice theory to examine the role of middle leadership in particular it investigates the practices of leading in the middle in the cultural discursive material economic and social political domains i e the sayings doings and relatings of middle leading this perspective acknowledges the ecological arrangement of leading practices in schools and the necessity of considering the unavoidable reality of the site the analysis is used to promote the need to view leading in the middle as a form of praxis a morally and ethically informed practice that requires thoughtful decision making and action in situations where the outcomes are not always clear this book focuses on the practice of leading for those in middle management positions in primary and secondary schools such as those responsible for curriculum leadership including senior teachers assistant principals and curriculum leaders in their positions that bridge management and the classroom they are significant leaders in promoting and sustaining effective pedagogy for good learning outcomes and they have to continue to provide high quality teaching in their own classrooms while simultaneously being a mentor coach supporter and evaluator for their colleagues

Ecological feminism, environmental humanities, and critical animal studies. The handbook is an innovative and authoritative guide to theory and method as they relate to policy issues and practice and focus on the primary debates of today in social work from a critical perspective and will be required reading for all students, academics, and practitioners of social work and related professions.

To help teachers and educators, this updated edition successfully pulls together the theory and practice of learning through activity-based experience and explains in detail how to implement it.

The authors have done their homework in reading and consulting with the prominent literature, especially regarding children. All this effort gives the book a solid background foundation and makes it readable and well usable for both lay counsellors and professional providers, and for all of us who are engaged in the delicate and rewarding endeavor of grief therapy. Naji Abi Hashem, clinical cultural psychologist, Berkeley, California, praises the first edition: "The book provides an absorbing and challenging journey through the possible process involved in bereavement work and encourages one to think broadly about how one can approach a bereaved person. This was a book I enjoyed reading very much and which I found both theoretically sound and practically helpful." Bereavement care: Cruse Counselling for grief and bereavement. Second edition is a bestselling introductory guide for professionals who work with people experiencing bereavement through death and other forms of loss, focusing on practical assessment and intervention strategies. Geraldine Humphrey and David Zimpfer guide readers through the essential theory and skills needed to work with clients in a way which sensitively facilitates the process of grief, initiates healing, and promotes a sense of growth. Setting out the broad principles for practice, the authors go on to show how these can be applied in working with individuals, families, and groups, and in relation to specific issues including chronic and life-threatening illnesses, palliative care, and complicated grief. Carefully chosen case examples illustrate the counselling process, while specific attention is paid throughout to ethical considerations and the possible need for referral. This fully revised and updated second edition features a new chapter on working with children and adolescents, both from the perspective of young people who are grieving losses and those who are receiving palliative care as patients. While focusing on the practical, the book provides a firm theoretical base by explaining key concepts such as attachment, grief, and resilience. Geraldine M. Humphrey is counsellor in the department of psychology at the North Canton Medical Foundation, specializing in death, illnesses, and non-death and grief. David G. Zimpfer is former director of the Cancer Center of Ohio.
