business research methods involves systematic data-driven approaches that help organizations make informed decisions by collecting, analyzing, and interpreting relevant data. The process typically includes defining a research problem, developing a research design, collecting data through surveys, interviews, or observations, and analyzing this data using statistical tools. Business research can be qualitative, focusing on understanding underlying reasons and motivations, or quantitative, aiming to quantify variables and predict outcomes. This book is divided into five chapters, each focusing on a crucial aspect of the research process: we begin with the identification of research problems, proceed through the formulation of hypotheses, research design, data collection, and analysis, and conclude with report writing. This progression ensures that readers gain a solid understanding of the entire research process, equipping them with the knowledge and skills needed to conduct their own research projects. To enhance learning and reinforce the concepts covered in each chapter, we have included a set of review questions at the end of each unit. These questions are categorized into multiple choice questions, short answer questions, moderate answer questions, and long answer questions. These questions provide readers with practical examples of how the material may be tested in an academic setting.

The second edition of this highly accessible core textbook continues to offer students a practical guide to the process of planning, undertaking, and writing about qualitative research in public relations and marketing communications through clear explanations and illustrations. The book encourages undergraduate and master level students to engage with the main approaches and techniques for conducting critical reflective investigations. This new edition identifies the skills and strategies needed to conduct authentic, trustworthy research, highlights specific analytical techniques associated within the main research approaches, provides new sections on internet-based research, critical discourse analysis, historical research, action research, and mixed methods research. Qualitative research methods in public relations and marketing communications will be invaluable for those undertaking research methods courses on public relations and marketing communication degrees, as well as those working on a dissertation.
