takashi shiraishi examines the emergence of an indonesian national consciousness during the first quarter of this century when indonesians began to view their world in a new way to articulate this new consciousness in modern forms and to believe that these expressions could have a political effect this political biography reveals the turbulent life of ernest françois eugène douwes dekker son of a dutch father and a german javanese mother born on java in 1879 vignettes flow in novel like fashion from the battle fields of south africa and internment camp in sri lanka to a career in journalism in java radical thoughts then enter douwes dekker s mind such as demands for racial equality and national independence these made him write presciently that this road might take him to the executioner s hand or to the victory of revolution in exile from 1913 on his bravado allowed him to enter a doctoral program at the university of zurich but also to entanglement with indian revolutionaries operating from berlin returning to java at the end of world war i he once again propagated the virtues of nationalism but soon was forced to relinquish his efforts and start a teaching career even here constant surveillance and eventual internment in surinam were his lot within a decade the republic of indonesia had been proclaimed and douwes dekker emerged to acclaim as a close friend and political adviser to president soekarno

the book brings together cutting edge scholarship from the united states and europe to address political and cultural responses to the arms race of the 1980s
