below me the island glistens verdant green i imagine what it holds such things of horror and exhilaration as are seldom gathered together i turn my head from the window as fear and liberation beat in equal measures through my bloodstream straddling opposite sides of the long and brutal civil war in sri lanka two girls one sinhala the other tamil navigate their histories sibling rivalries and adolescent heartbreaks the burdens of exile and belonging and the harsh demands of survival written in stirring prose that evokes the beauty of the island country and the bloodshed that has destroyed it nayomi munaweera s debut novel is a haunting tale of lives distorted by terrible violence in the global south women have and continue to resist multiple forms of structural violence the atrocities committed against yazidi women by isis have been recognized internationally and the nobel peace prize awarded to nadia murad in 2018 was a tribute to honor women whose bodies have been battered in the name of race nationality war and religion in the crossfire of history women s war resistance discourse in the global south is an edited collection that incorporates literary works testimonies autobiographies women s resistance movements and films that add to the conversation on the resilience of women in the global south the collection focuses on palestine kashmir syria kurdisthan congo argentina central america sri lanka and bangladesh the essays question historical accuracy and politics of representation that usually undermine women s role during conflict and they reevaluate how women participated challenged sacrificed and vehemently opposed war discourses that erase women s role in shaping resistance movements the transformative mode of these examples expands the definition of heroism and defiance to prevent these types of heroism from slipping into the abyss of history this collection brings forth and celebrates women s fortitude in conflict zones in the crossfire of history shines a light on women across the globe who are resisting the sociopolitical and economic injustices in their nation states this volume addresses cultural and literary narratives of trauma in south asian literature presenting a novel cross cultural perspective on trauma theory the essays within this volume study the divergent cultural responses to trauma and violence in various parts of south asia including sri lanka bangladesh nepal and afghanistan which have received little attention in literary writings on trauma in their specific circumstances through comprehensive sociocultural understanding of the region this book creates an approachable space where trauma engages with themes like racial identity ethnicity nationality religious dogma and cultural environment with case studies from kashmir the 1971 liberation war of bangladesh and armed conflict in nepal and afghanistan the volume will be of interest to scholars students and researchers of literature history politics conflict studies and south asian studies philosophizing considering life questions stimulates thinking processing information reasoning thinking creatively evaluating alternatives many children are natural philosophers they observe the world around them from a young age have a keen sense of right and wrong and ask endless questions stories fables fairy tales parables are a classic device for teaching lessons about life morality chance consequences and other cultures to audiences both young and old philosophy sucks kids right in is a guide that parents and educators can use to structure and guide this process contributors nel de theije and leo kaniok have collected 40 short stories that encourage children to ponder the themes of happiness love friendship peace freedom respect and equality and more an introductory chart clearly lays out the age groupings the stories are appropriate for a primary theme possible secondary themes and the teaching purpose of the story many stories come with discussion papers that suggest areas of exploration with children of different age groups 4 6 6 8 8 10 and 10 12 and grades the open ended questions stimulate children to experience the stories more intensely encourage self reflection and seek their own answers to the big questions of life can potatoes grow on a walnut tree or can radishes grow on an apple tree no of course not the farmer must decide whether he wants to harvest potatoes or apples first exactly like the decision we must make with what we want to reap in our lives not every seed will germinate and sometimes an entire harvest will be destroyed but the law of sowing and reaping also applies to our lives only that which we sow ourselves can we reap so far my life has resembled a roller coaster ride involving everything from health problems to massive anxiety and panic attacks nevertheless i never gave up and fought against all odds to achieve my personal goals people often ask me how i solved one or more problems or how i conquered my panic attacks and that was the reason i wrote this book this little guide is for all who are already successful and want to become even more successful so let us take a little adventurous trip through our own ego you learn a lot about the most important personality characteristics the four pillars of life the valley of thoughts as well as the deep abyss of the subconscious mind furthermore you will receive valuable tips and ways to achieve these goals as well as simple but very effective mental exercises for relaxation and solution solving
