This Shiloh activity guide by Phyllis Reynolds Naylor is set up so it can be used as a unit plan for the teacher or used by students in literature circles. It is broken up into a 15 day plan and includes chapter questions, vocabulary, writing prompts, reading comprehension questions, and projects. This would be a perfect resource for a homeschooled student to follow along with the book.

The book discusses the Center on Secondary Education for Students with Autism (CESA) which is designed to support all students with autism in high school. The breadth of the learning needs for those autistic students is broad, and for many of these students, four domains of emphasis are important: transition and families, academics, peer and social competence, and personal independence and behavior. The CESA program consists of specific component interventions and practices that address each of these domains, which are highlighted in the book chapters.
