Kim Stanley Robinson remains one of the most progressive writers working today. His novels and short stories have mapped cycles of capitalist violence, economic expansion, and material despoliation in turn proposing radical visions of social and economic justice through cooperatives, collective agreements, and stewardship of the environment. But if Robinson is readily considered a political author, less attention has been paid to his craft and composition. This book examines Robinson's concern with literary apprenticeship in novels such as The Post-Apocalyptic, The Wild Shore, The Intergenerational Star Ship, Narrative Aurora, and The Tale of Ice Age Hunters. Shaman Robinson creates characters who struggle with and against storytelling in these fictions; apprentices battle against the limits of their interpretative powers as they come to recognize the real pleasures and the intense hardships of art and narrative.

This history explores the historical periods, literary genres, and cultural movements of California.
